

PARKINSON'S DISEASE AND Rehabilitation

At ClearSky Rehabilitation Hospital of Leesville, we offer specialized rehabilitation to patients with Parkinson's disease so they can live with more confidence and independence.

Research has shown that a combined focus on medical management and intensive rehabilitation can dramatically improve function and quality of life in individuals living with Parkinson's disease.

Our physician-led, multi-disciplinary team customizes care plans with patients and their families to best manage and control disease symptoms, including:

- Muscle tone and tremor management
- Posture, balance, and walking
- Speed of movements
- Fatigue and endurance
- Swallowing issues
- Communication, voice, and speech impairments
- Impaired memory, problem-solving, and behavior
- Self-care skills, such as feeding and dressing
- Bowel and bladder training
- Depression management
